Keeping communities looking good: Red Kite Housing's monthly estate inspections

Red Kite Community Housing believes their neighbourhoods should be great places to live. That's why they carry out several estate inspections every month, working hard to make sure their communities stay clean, tidy, and just generally great.

These regular check-ups are a super important part of how they keep things looking good across all their estates. They even invite local residents and Councillors to all their inspections – it's a fantastic way to show how everyone's working together to make the areas better!

When Red Kite's team is out and about, they're always on the lookout for anything that might spoil things for their tenants. They pay close attention to anti-social behaviour (ASB) because they want everyone to feel safe where they live, so sorting out any issues quickly is key. They're also focused on spotting litter and fly-tipping. No one wants to see rubbish piled up, and it can actually be a bit of a hazard too. So, if they see it, they act fast to get it cleared. By regularly checking these areas, they can make sure any problems are sorted out quickly.

The June inspections are now listed on their website, so take a look to see where they'll be (redkitehousing.org.uk/whats-on). If you fancy joining them on any of their inspections, just give them a call on 01494 476 100 or drop them an email at contact@redkitehousing.org.uk. They'd love to have you on board to help keep their communities looking their best!

And there's more! As well as their regular estate inspections, Red Kite is holding another litter pick next Wednesday (May 28th). The exact location is still being decided, but it'll be based on where they're currently seeing the most issues with litter and fly-tipping. Keep an eye out on their Facebook page for more details!
