5.4 Communication

Red Kite will communicate clearly and openly throughout the repairs process. We will keep tenants informed of appointments, progress, delays and any changes to expected completion times, using appropriate communication methods wherever reasonably practicable.

Where changes to this policy affect the repairs service, service standards or what tenants can expect from us, we will ensure that relevant repairs information on our website is updated promptly and that significant changes are communicated to tenants through appropriate channels.

6. Policy Statement

6.1 The following sections set out how Red Kite will deliver a responsive repairs service in accordance with the principles contained within this policy and our legal and regulatory obligations.

6.2 Red Kite is committed to delivering a responsive repairs service that maintains our homes in a safe, secure and good state of repair. We will respond to reported repairs in accordance with the priority framework set out in this policy, ensuring that resources are directed according to risk, legal obligations and the needs of our tenants.

- 6.3 We will respond promptly to reports of damp, mould and other potential health hazards, adopting a proactive, risk-based approach that prioritises the safety and wellbeing of tenants. We will comply with the requirements of Awaab's Law and associated legislation, ensuring hazards are investigated, communicated and remedied within the required timescales.
- 6.4 Repairs will be delivered in a way that promotes value for money, protects our assets and contributes to the long-term sustainability of our homes.
- 6.5 Lettable Standard
Red Kite will maintain our homes in accordance with the Red Kite Lettable Standard and other relevant asset standards adopted by the Group.
- 6.6 Repair Priorities
Red Kite will assess every reported repair according to the level of risk it presents to the health and safety of tenants and occupants, the condition of the home and our legal and regulatory responsibilities.

When determining the appropriate priority, we will consider:

- the nature and severity of the defect;
- the actual or potential risk to health and safety;
- the likelihood of further damage if the repair is delayed;
- any statutory or regulatory requirements;
- the vulnerability or individual circumstances of tenants or occupants;
- safeguarding concerns;
- the presence of young children, older people or pregnancy where relevant;
- cultural or religious considerations, including where continued access to running water is particularly important; and
- any reasonable adjustments required to ensure equitable access to the repairs service.

Where appropriate, repair priorities may be amended to reflect individual circumstances or increased risk.

The following priority categories apply to our responsive repairs service.

Priority	Target Response	Typical Examples
Emergency	Attend within 2 hours and complete or make safe within 24 hours	Gas escape (following attendance by the gas emergency service), uncontrolled water leak, dangerous electrical fault, insecure external door following a break-in, dangerous structural defect, significant flooding or similar situations presenting an immediate risk to people or property.
24 Hour	Attend and make safe within 24 hours	Repairs requiring urgent attendance to prevent further deterioration or significant inconvenience, but where there is no immediate danger to life.

Urgent	Complete within 5 working days	Repairs requiring prompt attention to prevent deterioration of the property or unnecessary inconvenience to the tenant.
Routine	Complete within 20 working days	Repairs that do not present an immediate health or safety risk and can be scheduled through our normal responsive repairs service.
Planned Maintenance	Delivered through a planned programme	Major component replacement or improvement works that are more effectively undertaken as part of an investment programme.
Cyclical Maintenance	In accordance with the relevant programme	Regular servicing, inspections and maintenance undertaken to maintain safety, compliance and asset performance.

The examples above are illustrative and are not exhaustive. Every repair will be assessed individually to ensure the most appropriate priority is applied.

Certain qualifying repairs are covered by the statutory Right to Repair Scheme. Where applicable, we will comply with the Secure Tenants of Local Housing Authorities (Right to Repair) Regulations 1994, including the prescribed repair timescales and compensation arrangements.

6.7 Right to Repair

Certain repairs are covered by the statutory Right to Repair Scheme, which applies to qualifying repairs for eligible secure tenants under the Secure Tenants of Local Housing Authorities (Right to Repair) Regulations 1994.

Where the scheme applies, Red Kite will:

- identify whether the reported repair qualifies under the Regulations;
- complete qualifying repairs within the statutory timescale, where reasonably practicable;
- inform tenants of their rights under the scheme; and
- where we fail to complete a qualifying repair within the prescribed timescale, comply with the statutory arrangements relating to alternative contractors and any compensation that may be payable.

The Right to Repair Scheme generally applies only where the statutory eligibility criteria are met, and to qualifying repairs with an estimated value of £250 or less. However, Red Kite Group aims to deliver a consistent repairs service across all homes that it owns or manages. We will therefore seek to apply the same repair priorities and response times to all tenants wherever reasonably practicable, regardless of tenancy type.

The table below sets out the statutory qualifying repairs and the maximum timescales within which they should normally be completed.

Qualifying Repair	Maximum Timescale
Total loss of electrical power	1 working day
Partial loss of electrical power	3 working days

Unsafe electrical socket, switch or fitting	1 working day
Total loss of water supply	1 working day
Partial loss of water supply	3 working days
Total or partial loss of gas supply	1 working day
Blocked flue to an open fire or boiler	1 working day
Total or partial loss of space heating or hot water (between 31 October and 1 May)	1 working day
Total or partial loss of space heating or hot water (between 1 May and 31 October)	3 working days
Blocked or leaking foul drain, soil stack or toilet (where there is only one toilet in the home)	1 working day
Blocked sink, bath or basin	3 working days
Tap that cannot be turned	3 working days
Leaking water or heating pipe, tank or cistern	1 working day
Leaking roof	7 working days
Insecure external window, door or lock	1 working day

If a qualifying repair is not completed within the statutory timescale, tenants may have the right to request that another contractor completes the work. Where this applies, and the statutory conditions are met, compensation may be payable in accordance with the Regulations.

Nothing in this policy affects Red Kite Group's ability to respond more quickly where a repair presents a greater risk to health, safety or the wellbeing of tenants or occupants.

6.8 Damp, Mould and Property Hazards

Red Kite recognises the significant impact that damp, mould and other housing hazards can have on the health and wellbeing of tenants and occupants.

Reports of damp, mould and other potential hazards will be assessed promptly and managed in accordance with our Damp, Mould and Condensation (Awaab's Law) Policy and relevant legislative requirements.

Where a repair presents a significant risk to health or safety, we will take appropriate interim measures where reasonably practicable while permanent repairs are arranged.

Red Kite will not automatically attribute damp and mould to tenant lifestyle or behaviour and will investigate reports in accordance with our Damp, Mould and Condensation Policy.

6.9 Equality, Accessibility and Reasonable Adjustments

Red Kite is committed to delivering a repairs service that is fair, inclusive and accessible.

We will make reasonable adjustments where appropriate and will take account of disabilities, health conditions, neurodiversity, language requirements, caring responsibilities, pregnancy, age, cultural or religious needs and other relevant individual circumstances when arranging appointments, communicating with tenants and delivering repairs.

Where reasonably practicable, we will accommodate requests relating to communication preferences, appointment arrangements and other identified needs.

6.10 Repairs Appointments and Communication

Red Kite will offer appointments wherever reasonably practicable and will seek to arrange these at mutually convenient times.

Throughout the repairs process we will keep tenants informed of appointments, progress, delays and any changes to expected completion dates. Red Kite remains responsible for ensuring tenants are kept updated, even when a contractor is involved. Where repairs cannot be completed within the original target timescale, we will explain the reasons, provide revised timescales where these are known and keep tenants updated until the repair has been completed.

Red Kite will communicate using the tenant's preferred method wherever reasonably practicable and will consider any reasonable adjustments that have been identified.

Appointment reminders may be provided to help tenants prepare for appointments and reduce missed visits.

6.11 Access

Tenants are expected to provide reasonable access to enable inspections, servicing and repairs to be carried out.

Where access is not provided, we will seek to rearrange the appointment. Persistent refusal of access may result in delays to repairs, legal action where required to fulfil our statutory obligations, or other action in accordance with the tenancy agreement.

6.12 Contractors and Standards of Behaviour

Employees, contractors and service providers acting on behalf of Red Kite Group are expected to deliver repairs safely, professionally and respectfully.

Contractors must comply with our Contractor Code of Conduct and demonstrate appropriate standards of equality, diversity and inclusion, safeguarding awareness and customer care. These expectations will form part of our procurement and contract management arrangements and will apply to subcontractors delivering repairs services on behalf of our appointed contractors.

We will monitor contractor compliance with these standards through our contract management and quality assurance arrangements. Failure to meet the required standards may result in appropriate contract management action.

6.13 Quality of Repairs

Red Kite will seek to complete repairs correctly at the earliest opportunity using competent employees and contractors and appropriate materials.

Completed repairs may be inspected as part of our quality assurance arrangements to ensure that workmanship, safety and customer service standards have been achieved.

6.14 Rechargeable Repairs

Where repairs arise from damage, neglect, misuse, unauthorised alterations or other circumstances for which the tenant or leaseholder is responsible, we may recover our reasonable costs in accordance with legislation, tenancy agreements, leases and our Recharge Policy.

Recharge decisions will take account of individual circumstances, vulnerabilities and any relevant equality considerations before a final decision is made.

6.15 Leaseholders

Leaseholder repair responsibilities will be determined by the terms of the individual lease.

Where consultation is required before carrying out qualifying works or entering into qualifying long-term agreements, we will comply with the statutory consultation requirements.

6.16 Complaints and Learning

Red Kite welcome feedback about our repairs service and will manage complaints in accordance with our Complaints Policy.

We will use complaints, compliments, tenant feedback, Ombudsman determinations, audits and performance information to identify trends, improve services and prevent similar issues recurring.

6.17 Performance Monitoring and Continuous Improvement

Red Kite continuously monitors the quality and effectiveness of our repairs service through a range of assurance measures, including performance monitoring against agreed Key Performance Indicators (KPIs), customer feedback, complaints analysis, contractor quality assurance and post-completion quality checks.

We use a risk-based approach to determine which repairs require additional scrutiny. This may include consideration of factors such as value, complexity, health and safety implications, vulnerability, repeat repairs, customer feedback, complaints and contractor performance.

Post-completion quality checks may be carried out through a range of methods, including telephone contact with residents, desktop reviews of repair records and photographic evidence, and in-person inspections where appropriate.

Information gathered through these activities is used to monitor service quality, provide assurance that repairs have been completed to the required standard, identify opportunities for improvement and inform the management of contractor performance.

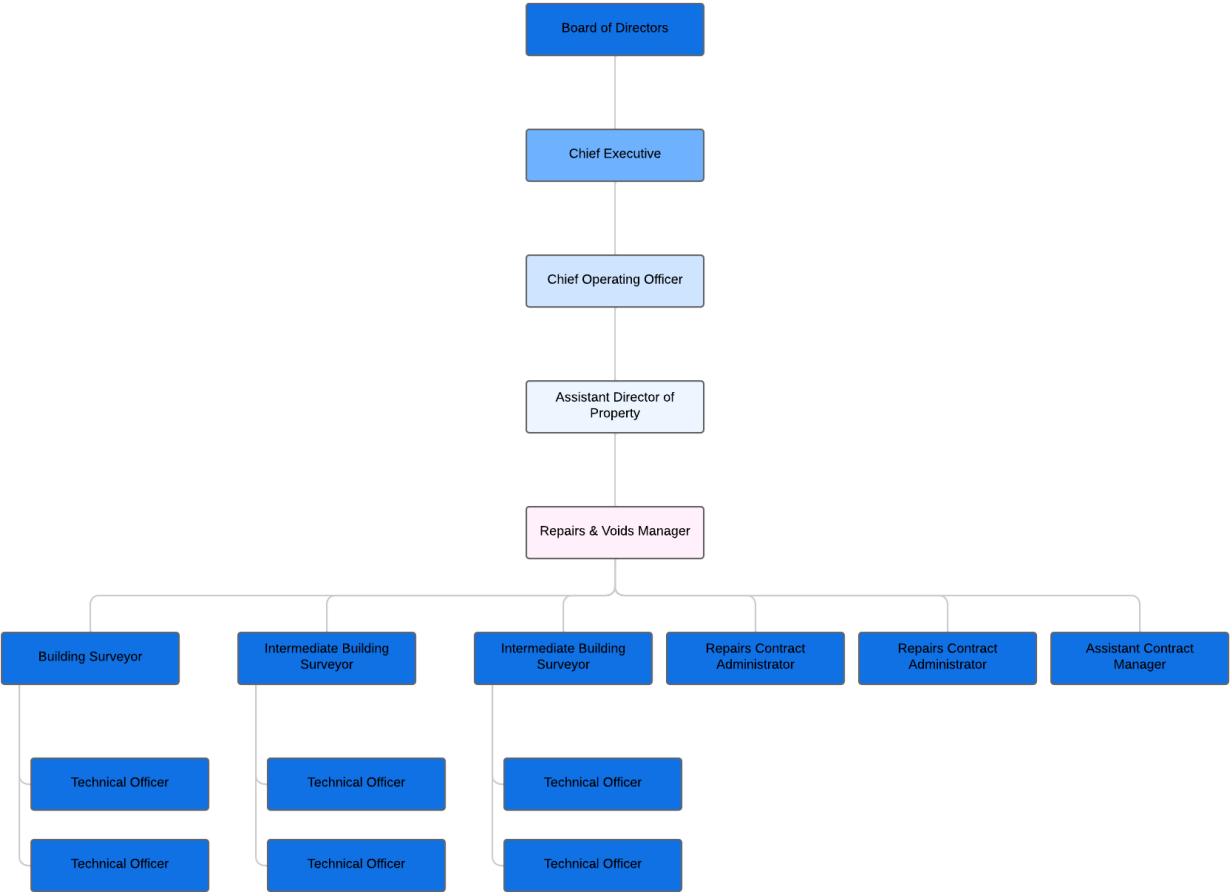

We aim to complete repairs on the first visit and will monitor our performance against this measure. Sometimes, during the course of a repair, additional works may be required, but our aim is to ensure completion within the priority timescale allocated.

Contractor performance will be monitored through our contract management arrangements, using relevant performance information, tenant feedback, complaints, quality assurance activity and inspections. We will use this information to identify areas of concern, require improvement where standards are not being achieved and take appropriate contract management action where necessary.

We will report performance through our governance arrangements and publish information where required by legislation or regulatory standards.
